

Combating discrimination in education

Tenth consultation of Member States on the application of the Convention and the Recommendation against Discrimination in Education (1960)

GUIDELINES FOR THE PREPARATION OF REPORTS BY MEMBER STATES ON THE APPLICATION OF THE 1960 CONVENTION AND RECOMMENDATION AGAINST DISCRIMINATION IN EDUCATION

Approved by the UNESCO Executive Board at its 207th session in October 2019

1. Introduction

The Convention against Discrimination in Education (“the Convention”) and the Recommendation against Discrimination in Education (“the Recommendation”), adopted by UNESCO’s General Conference in 1960, respond to UNESCO’s constitutional mandate to “advance the ideal of equality of educational opportunities without regard to race, sex or any distinctions, economic or social”. The Convention is the first legally binding international instrument providing for the right to education and the only one exclusively devoted to it.

The right to education is today one of the key principles underpinning the Education 2030 agenda and Sustainable Development Goal 4 (SDG4) adopted by the international community. SDG4 is rights-based and seeks to ensure the full enjoyment of the right to education as fundamental to achieving sustainable development. Its scope captures the multidimensional nature of the right to education.

The Convention has been recognized as a cornerstone of Education 2030 agenda. It also represents a powerful tool to advance SDG4 by ensuring effective articulation between normative and operational work.

The present Guidelines are intended to assist Member States in the preparation of national reports on the implementation of the Convention as well as the Recommendation in the context of the 10th Consultation.

2. Reporting obligations

There are differences in the legal nature of the obligations under the Convention, as distinguished from those under the Recommendation. The Convention has binding force and the States Parties are obliged to incorporate its provisions into their national Constitution or domestic law. The Recommendation, non-binding in nature, has political and moral force. Its adoption sought to take into account the difficulties that certain states might experience, in particular on account of their federal structure, in ratifying the Convention.

Bearing in mind the differences in wording and in legal scope inherent to the nature of these two categories of instruments, the content of the Recommendation is identical to that of the Convention. Member States are expected to give effect to it in national legislation and education policies.

Most importantly, the reporting obligation under the provisions of Article VII of the Convention and of the Recommendation is the same. Article VIII of UNESCO’s Constitution states that “Each Member State shall submit to the Organization, at such times and in such manner as shall be determined by the General Conference, reports on the laws, regulations and statistics relating to its educational, scientific and cultural institutions and activities, and on the action taken upon the recommendations and conventions referred to in Article IV, paragraph 4”. Therefore, even if a country is not a State Party to the Convention, it needs to submit a report on the implementation of the Recommendation, which means that all UNESCO Member States are expected to submit a national report on the implementation of these instruments in the context of monitoring consultations.

3. Participation in consultations

In light of the Education 2030 agenda, the monitoring of the implementation of the Convention and the Recommendation is of crucial importance in order to ensure an education that is truly for all and to counter persistent inequalities in access, participation and learning outcomes at all levels, particularly for the most vulnerable groups. Concrete measures taken by Member States in accordance with their legal obligations under these instruments contribute to this process.

As the scope and content of the legal obligations under the right to education are aligned with the 10 targets of SDG4 on education, efforts have also been made to ensure that the specific components are included in the guidelines and that the guidelines serve as a valuable monitoring tool for measuring progress towards SDG4 targets.¹ In addition, in view of the educational challenges posed by the influxes of refugees and displacements worldwide, the guidelines provide the opportunity to report on concrete measures taken during the reporting period to include refugees and migrants in their educational systems. An emphasis is also to be placed on legal and policy framework that protects the rights of national minorities.

The reporting should be as comprehensive as possible and the process needs to be participatory and conducted in cooperation between ministries of education and other ministries dealing with aspects of the right to education. Relevant information from CSOs having education as their main field of activity should also be provided.

The preparation of national reports provides a good opportunity for Member States to assess the implementation of the right to education in their country, identify specific challenges, build constructive dialogue with other actors involved in this field and share good practices.

4. General indications

The reporting period for the 10th Consultation on the implementation of the Convention and the Recommendation covers four years (2017-2020).

Member States that already reported to the 9th Consultation (2016-2017) are invited to refer to their reports when appropriate. Relevant information supplied for other reporting instances may be reproduced or referred to with precise indication as to its retrieval. Similarly, hyperlinks to any useful documents or relevant legal and policy texts are most welcome and texts can also be added in the annex.

In the preparation of reports, Member States are kindly requested to provide brief and concise information, although they may provide details on the scope of the question if deemed necessary. In addition to a description of the constitutional, legislative, administrative and policy framework established for the implementation of the provisions guaranteed by the instruments, the information supplied by Member States should demonstrate how legal norms and practices comply with the Convention and the Recommendation.

5. Modalities

With a view to simplify the Guidelines while providing necessary substantive information to assist Member States in the preparation of responses, two series of questions/remarks are presented:

¹ Please note that the 1974 Recommendation concerning Education for International Understanding, Co-operation and Peace and Education relating to Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms is used specifically for monitoring SDG target 4.7. The 1960 Convention and Recommendation contribute more generally to the body of evidence for monitoring the targets of SDG4.

- (1) Open-ended and closed-ended questions to be directly filled in by Member States through a participatory process. Please note that multiple answers may be provided where relevant.
- (2) Additional information aimed at guiding Members States to structure and detail their responses to the open-ended questions (including remarks on how to respond efficiently to the questions raised). These elements are presented in italics.

In their responses, Member States are encouraged to provide information in a concise manner while preserving substantive and relevant content.

2.10 Rights of refugees and migrants

The rights of refugees and migrants are not explicitly provided for in the Convention/Recommendation. However, the Convention and Recommendation call on states to eliminate and prevent discrimination in education based notably on national origin.¹⁴ In this context, a number of Member States that participated in the 9th Consultation reported on measures adopted to ensure refugees' and migrants' right to education. Growing displacement and influx of refugees worldwide and the emergence of major educational challenges in this area, as well as the frameworks recently adopted by the international community,¹⁵ demonstrate the opportunity for states to report on measures adopted to include refugees and migrants in their educational systems.

Besides, this aspect also corresponds to SDG target 4.5, which calls on states to "ensure equal access to all levels of education and vocational training for the vulnerable", including "children in vulnerable situations", and covers the majority of SDG4 targets.

- Please briefly describe the existing legal and policy framework that protects the right to quality education for refugees and migrants in your country.

III. Methods used to draw the attention of the various authorities in the country to the instruments and to remove the obstacles encountered

1. Challenges and obstacles

- 1.1 Please indicate and provide any information on the difficulties encountered in the process of implementing the key provisions of the Convention/Recommendation (including legal and practical obstacles) and on the main issues that need to be addressed for promoting further the right to education in your country (several items could be ticked/mentioned):

- ☐ Challenges related to equitable access and inclusion in education (such as poverty and socio-economic factors, cultural and traditional attitudes, remoteness, migration and displacement, etc.)

The challenges is that most of refugees are living in Camps so it may become challenges to have enough infrastructures compared to the needs and resources available.

- ☐ Challenges related to the quality of education (such as shortages of qualified, trained and motivated teaching staff, non-supportive or inadequate teaching and learning as well as school environment, etc.)

As refugees' pupils are in the same class as national pupils there are accessing the same facilities equally.

- ☐ Challenges relating to the system and governance (such as budgetary constraints, lack or weakness of monitoring systems – including the lack of reliable data, absence of supportive/ inconsistent/obsolete legal and policy environment, lack of involvement of relevant stakeholders and lack of cooperation/coordination at different levels, etc.)

Here the Constraint can be the enough budget, however what is available is well managed according to the government financial rules and regulations.
