- Please indicate the relevant legal provisions:

The General Education Law:

Section 4.1 states that the goal of education is to ensure equal opportunities for all to receive quality education. Section 3.1.24 defines "different needs" as arising from differences in education, special talents, language, culture, gender, society, economy, and location. Section 5.1.3 emphasizes adherence to principles of equal access, non-discrimination, and openness in educational policies and activities. Section 10.1.9 mandates that students with disabilities receive equal opportunities and conditions for education as other students. Section 10.1.11 ensures equal opportunities for quality education regardless of different needs. Section 10.2.6 encourages accepting others' differences, respecting human rights and freedoms, and avoiding discrimination, oppression, humiliation, or denigration. Section 13.2.2 outlines teachers' responsibility to effectively manage and direct training considering students' different needs and learning levels. The funding and composition of variable costs in educational institutions are determined at each level to provide equal learning opportunities, considering school location, professional field, curriculum, and students' diverse needs.

The General Education Law incorporates provisions for "Education for Equal Inclusion" (Chapter Three), covering curriculum plans, programs, textbooks, materials, evaluation, teacher methodology, learning environment, funding, and parent participation. Regulations ensure equal inclusion of every child in education.

All levels of education adapt curriculum and content to meet the needs of diverse learners. The Law on Vocational and Technical Education and Training adjusts curriculum to match students' varying needs and skill levels (Section 6.10).

The Law on Higher Education requires educational institutions to implement programs supporting students with special educational needs and create suitable environments (Section 31.1.6).

Additionally, the Government's Resolution No. 102 of 2024 outlines procedures for grants, loans, repayment, and support to students of domestic and foreign higher education institutions. It provides tuition grants for students in high-demand professions such as speech therapy, movement therapy, occupational therapy, psychology, and special education methodologists (Clauses 7.1, 7.2.2, 7.7 of the Rules).

- Please list the prohibited grounds of discrimination in education as laid out in legal texts:
General Education Law: Article 5. Principles of education: 5.1.3. equal access, non-discrimination and openness; Article 10. - Please provide details:

The "Methods and Forms for Comprehensive Developmental Support for Children with Disabilities" were approved through Joint Order No. A/220/475/812 of 2021 by the Minister of Labor and Social Security, the Minister of Education and Science, and the Minister of Health. This order established the "Education Support Council" and "Support Team" within pre-school education institutions. These bodies are responsible for organizing early detection of children's health and development at 9, 18, and 36 months and for connecting children with disabilities to educational institutions in provinces and districts. Additionally, a legal framework and conditions were created to provide education for children who are unable to regularly attend classes due to health reasons, enabling them to study in a family environment.

Under the Minister of Education and Science's Order No. A/41 of 2020, titled "Inclusion of Children with Disabilities in Kindergarten," more than 200 school-aged children (aged 6–11) who require permanent or inpatient care were included in the educational and support services of Kindergarten No. 10 in the capital from 2021 to 2024.

A draft of the "Structure and Staffing Rules for the Support Center for Education of People with Disabilities" and the "Procedures for Providing Comprehensive Developmental Support to Students with Different Needs in Kindergartens and General Education Schools" has been prepared.

To ensure no child is left out of education, a post for Inclusive Education has been created within the structure of state and local administrative organizations. This post is responsible for implementing education sector policies and activities related to inclusive education, with detailed duties and responsibilities outlined in the job description. For example, the job description of the official responsible for inclusive education in the local State Ministry of Education and Culture includes tasks such as "Reporting statistical information on the implementation of inclusive education policies accurately and on time" and "Ensuring the inclusion of each child with different needs in educational services, detecting children left out of education, and taking necessary countermeasures."

The standard curriculum for the "Language Development" course, designed to support the development of speech-impaired children, was approved by Order No. A/305 of 2020, issued by the Minister of Education, Culture, Science, and Sports, under the title "On Approval of the Standard Program."

The "Standard Curriculum for Home Orientation Training for Visually Impaired Children" and the "Standard Training Program for Spatial Orientation for Visually Impaired Children" were approved by Order No. A/309 of 2021 from the Minister of Education and Science, titled "On Curriculum Approval."

In accordance with Order No. A/158 of 2023 from the Minister of Education and Science, the Mongolian Language Training Standard Program for mobile teachers and the Social Economy Training Standard Program were approved based on individualized training plans.

In 2021, 140.6 million MNT was allocated to fund methodological recommendations for teaching Mongolian language lessons to deaf children using the bilingual method, as well as to develop elementary and advanced programs for Mongolian sign language.

The "Mongolian Sign Interpreter" professional program was developed in collaboration with organizations such as the "Education of the Deaf" NGO, the Association of Sign Language Interpreters and Translators, and the National Association of Deaf People. This initiative aims to create opportunities for people with disabilities to participate in vocational and technical education, enhancing their professional skills and employment prospects. New standards were developed, and training in this field has commenced.

By Order No. A/206 of 2022 from the Minister of BSU, the exemplary model of the "Individual Education Plan" for preschool-aged children with disabilities was approved. This enables teachers to develop learning plans tailored to the characteristics and abilities of children with different needs, establishing a legal framework for supporting children's development. As a result, Article 8.3 of the General Law on Education stipulates that "Students with disabilities may receive one-on-one training based on the request and consent of their parents, guardians, or caregivers." The "Procedures for Organizing One-on-One Training for Students with Disabilities in Pre-School and General Education Services" have been developed in accordance with these provisions, with the methodology and training plan approved by the member of the government responsible for education.

The "Variable Costs and Performance-Based Financing Regulations," approved by Appendix 3 of Resolution No. 39 (2024), titled "On Approving Variable Cost Amounts, Trusts, and Procedures," include provisions to triple the variable costs per student or child with disabilities in all types of kindergartens and educational institutions. Specifically:

Section 4.1.4: Variable costs per student in general education schools that provide educational and support services for children with special needs are increased by 75%, while the variable costs for kindergartens are increased by 30%.

Section 4.1.8: Non-state kindergartens enrolling children from their local coverage area are eligible for financing to cover the variable costs per disabled child, in accordance with clause 4.1.4 of this regulation.

The "Variable Costs and Performance-Based Financing Procedure," approved by Appendix 3 of Resolution No. 466 (2023), titled "On Approval of Variable Cost Average Norms, Credentials, and Procedures," stipulates that the variable costs per student with disabilities in all forms of professional and technical education institutions shall be tripled (Section 4.1.2).

An independent group called "Education for Equal Inclusion," outlined in Chapter Three of the law, covers areas such as curriculum plans, programs, textbooks, materials, evaluation, teaching methodology, learning environment, funding, and parent participation in both pre-school and general education. This group was officially approved, and regulations promoting the equal inclusion of every child in education were established by incorporating the principles of the General Education Law into each provision. The Law on Vocational and Technical Education and Training provides for adjustments to the curriculum to accommodate the different needs and skill levels of students. Article 6.10 states that educational institutions may adjust the curriculum specified in Article 6.7, considering the diverse needs and skill levels of students. The standard curriculum for the "Language Development" course, aimed at supporting speech-impaired children, was approved through Order No. A/305 of 2020 by the Minister of Education, Culture, Science, and Sports. The "Standard Curriculum for Home Orientation Training for Visually Impaired Children" and the "Standard Training Program for Spatial Orientation for Visually Impaired Children" were approved by Order No. A/309 of 2021 from the Minister of Education and Science. The Education Package Law requires that educational institutions at all levels adjust their curriculum to accommodate the learning characteristics of children and youth with disabilities. It emphasizes that every teacher should possess the necessary methodological skills to work with and support children with different needs. Additionally, all students pursuing teaching careers must acquire these instructional skills. Since 2020, more than 900 students and teachers from other majors at Mongolian National University of Education have taken the 2-credit course "Fundamentals of Special Needs Education." This course was later improved and renamed to "Equal Inclusion Education," and a corresponding manual was developed. Moving forward, universities offering teacher training programs are instructed to include this subject as a compulsory course. Clause 13.1.4 of Article 13 of the Law on the Mongolian Language states that "if the majority of students belong to ethnic minorities with a different language, the training will be conducted in a bilingual program, and the content of the bilingual program must be approved." The central state administrative organization responsible for education and science is tasked with creating conditions to support language education, preserve culture and customs, and conduct scientific activities.

- Please elaborate and, where appropriate, indicate the legal and policy measures taken:

In accordance with the Minister of Education and Culture's Order No. A/170 of 2022, "On Approving Instructions," which mandates a three-fold increase in variable expenses for children with disabilities, more than 5% of the teaching and practical expenses of educational institutions must be allocated for acquiring equipment suitable for children with disabilities. Funding is provided to support these efforts.

According to Government Resolution No. 403 of 2021, the Institute of Professional Development for Teachers and the National Center for Lifelong Education were merged to form the "General Department of Education," under the Ministry of Education and Science. The Department of Inclusive Education within this structure is responsible for supporting the development and protection of students with diverse needs, ensuring accessible environments in educational institutions, and advancing teacher development.

Government Resolution No. 235 of 2020 instructs the Central State Administrative Organization in charge of Education to ensure that students training to become teachers take the "Basics of Special Needs Education" as a compulsory course.

The General Education Law, Article 30.1.4, mandates creating conditions for national minorities to receive education in both the Mongolian language and their mother tongue, while also preserving their culture and customs. Additionally, the Law on Pre-School and General Education, Article 7.2, states that in cases where the majority of students belong to a national minority with a different native language, kindergarten and elementary school activities can be conducted in their native language. Article 11.9 ensures the translation of textbooks for visually impaired students and the preparation of mother tongue textbooks for ethnic minorities and hearing-impaired children.

The "Variable Costs and Performance-Based Financing Regulations" approved by Appendix 3 of Government Resolution No. 39 (2024), "On Approving Variable Costs, Credentials, and Procedures," includes provision 4.1.2, which increases the average variable cost per student by 1% for students in Bayan-Olgii province participating in state-sanctioned general education programs. The budget is allocated accordingly.

What challenges were encountered in achieving gender equality in and through education? If needed, brief quantitative information may be added.
Does the legal minimum age for marriage conform to international standards (18 years) [1]: Please note that child marriage is a discriminatory practice as often girls can marry at a younger age than boys. Child marriage violates the child's right to education as they are more likely to drop out of school and children who are not in school are more likely to get married. [1] Please note that according to the Joint general recommendation No. 31 of the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women/general comment No. 18 of the Committee on the Rights of the Child on harmful practice, para. 20: "a marriage of a mature, capable child below 18 years of age may be allowed in exceptional circumstances, provided that the child is at least 16 years of age and that such decisions are made by a judge based on legitimate exceptional grounds defined by law and on the evidence of maturity, without deference to culture and tradition." Yes
- Please provide reference to the relevant laws and provisions and indicate the exceptions to the legal age of marriage as well as the absolute minimum age:
LAW on FAMILY Article 6: Conditions for Marriage 6.1. Unless otherwise specified in Article 9.1 of this law, a Mongolian citizen who has reached the age of 18 may marry, with mutual consent, either a foreign citizen or a stateless person in Mongolia.

- Please elaborate and, where appropriate, indicate the legal and policy measures taken:

It was enacted in accordance with the Constitution, the General Law on Education, and the Law on the Mongolian Language to protect and develop the rights of ethnic minorities to use their mother tongue and to further safeguard state language rights. The provisions are as follows:

Article 8, Section 1 of the Constitution of Mongolia states, "Mongolian is the official language of the state." Furthermore, Section 2 states, "This provision shall not prevent ethnic minorities from using their mother tongue for learning, communication, cultural, and scientific activities," ensuring the rights of ethnic minorities.

The General Law on Education, in Article 30.1.4, states, "Organize the work of creating conditions for national minorities to receive education in both the Mongolian language and their mother tongue, and to inherit their culture and customs." In the Law on Pre-school and General Education, Article 7.2 allows, "Where the majority of students are from ethnic minorities with a different language, kindergarten and primary education can be conducted in their native language." Furthermore, Article 11.9 requires, "Textbooks and learning materials for visually impaired students and ethnic minorities should be translated, including the creation of mother tongue textbooks for hearing-impaired children."

Article 13.1.4 of the Law on the Mongolian Language mandates, "For schools where the majority of students belong to national minorities with a different native language, a bilingual education program should be implemented, and the content of the program should be approved." Additionally, Article 13.1.5 emphasizes "creating conditions for ethnic minorities to inherit their language, culture, and customs, and to participate in scientific activities," outlining the responsibilities of the central state administration responsible for education and science.

Article 19.2 of the Law on Culture prohibits "discrimination and restrictions on the cultural heritage of ethnic minorities."

In 2020, under the Vision-2050 national development plan for 2021-2030, the primary goal for human development is to ensure "equal opportunities for quality education for all." This includes creating equal opportunities and conditions for pre-school education, particularly for herders, migrants, low-income households, and children with special needs. The plan aims to work in these areas to implement its goals effectively.

According to Appendix No. 3 of Resolution No. 39 of 2024, which approves variable cost amounts, ratios, and procedures, Clause 4.1.2 states that "The average variable cost per student in Bayan-Olgii Province, who participates in general education, shall be increased by 1%." The budget allocation for this is currently under review.

In 2021, Order No. A/94 of the Ministry of Education instructed the development of Mongolian-Kazakh, Kazakh-Mongolian, Mongolian-Tuva, and Tuva-Mongolian dictionaries for subjects such as mathematics, biology, natural science, visual arts, and physical education. Over 8,000 words were translated for grades 1-7 in Kazakh and Tuva languages, with 5,600 words for Mongolian-Kazakh and 3,400 for Mongolian-Tuva dictionaries. This project was funded with 236.0 million MNT.

Special bilingual lesson planning materials were also developed to support teachers' instructional methods. In 2021-2022, a total of 104 standard contents were translated and broadcasted on local TV in Tuva and Kazakh languages. Exercise books for grades 1-5 were also produced and distributed in these languages.

The Ministry of Education and Science is taking necessary measures to protect the mother tongue and culture of Tuva children. In Mongolia, the Tuva population is concentrated in Bayan-Olgii Province (Tsengel Sum), Hovd Province (Buyant Sum), and Khuvsgul Province (Tsagaanuur Sum), with smaller populations scattered in Ulaanbaatar, Erdenet, Darkhan-Uul, and other regions. However, the proficiency of the Tuva language among these communities varies. For example, children in Tsengel Sum, Bayan-Olgii Province, grow up speaking Tuva and often do not know Mongolian when they enter school. As a result, they receive their primary education in their mother tongue. The Ministry is currently working on creating a "Standard Curriculum for Tuva Language and Culture."

In accordance with the "Procedures for State Financial Support to Students of Higher Education Institutions," approved by Government Resolution No. 102 of 2022, the Education Loan Fund awarded 308.5 million MNT in scholarships to 284 students studying to become occupational therapists at state-owned universities and colleges in 2022 and 2023.

Article 6 of the regulations outlines support for "Disabled Students." According to Article 6.1, students classified as "Disabled Persons" under Article 4.1.1 of the Law on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities are eligible for grants to study in associate, bachelor's, master's, or doctoral programs at domestic educational institutions. They can also receive grants for bachelor's, master's, and doctoral programs at foreign educational institutions. Additionally, Article 8.1 specifies that grants are available to "target group" students studying in bachelor's programs at domestic institutions. Article 8.2 defines the "target group" to include complete orphans, half-orphans, children of disabled parents, families with disabled members, one student from Tsaatan, Uriankhai, or Tuva families, winners of the "Mongolian Beautiful Writer" competition, and families with three or more children studying at the same time in bachelor's programs.

The Educational Loan Fund provides three types of tuition grants to students with disabilities, families with disabled members, and orphans studying in higher education institutions. Over the past six years:

4,844 students with disabilities received 8,501.9 million MNT.

3,659 students with disabled parents received 6,488.7 million MNT.

15,760 students from families with disabled members received 28,078.0 million MNT.

7,998 orphans received 14,072.7 million MNT.

935 students from families with three or more children studying in higher education institutions received 1,624.2 million MNT.

60 students from poor families received 84.9 million MNT.

In total, 33,256 students received 58,850.4 million MNT in scholarships.

According to Government Resolution No. 208 of 2020, teachers and assistant teachers working with children with disabilities in regular kindergartens and general education schools receive an additional 10% of their basic salary based on the child's developmental progress and the teacher's workload. This policy was implemented from 2021 to 2024.

By Order No. A/206 of 2022, the Ministry of Education approved a model "Individual Education Plan" for pre-school children with disabilities. This model enables teachers to develop learning plans tailored to the individual needs and abilities of children, creating a legal framework to support their development.

In 2020, the Minister of Education, Culture, Science, and Sports issued Order A/296, approving "Instructions for the Payment of Additional Remuneration to Teachers and Assistant Teachers Working with Children with Disabilities in Kindergartens and General Education Schools." Article 2.1 specifies that these teachers will receive additional wages based on their monthly work results. These additional wages are calculated from the teacher's basic monthly salary and paid quarterly. The calculation includes the total hours worked and the training and activities conducted with children with disabilities.

Additionally, the following materials, designed to meet the needs of students with disabilities, were developed and made available on the websites of the General Department of Education and the National Institute of Educational Research:

A set of tools, manuals, and explanatory videos to support Braille learning for visually impaired children.

A series of e-courses in sign language for parents, guardians, and teachers of deaf children.

A guide and explanatory video to support children with disabilities in the family environment.

A "Mathematical Imagination" app for children with intellectual disabilities.

2. Progress made with respect to implementing the right to education across all levels and forms of education

2.1 Early childhood care and education For reference: Early childhood care and education (ECCE) is not explicitly provided for in the Convention/Recommendation. However, the international community has increasingly recognized the importance of ECCE over the years. The Committee on the Rights of the Child initially recognized “the right to education during early childhood as beginning at birth” (General Comment No. 7). This became more explicit with the 2010 Moscow Framework for Action and Cooperation[1] and more recently, the Tashkent Declaration and Commitments to Action for Transforming Early Childhood Care and Education[2]. In the current context of the Education 2030 agenda, under SDG target 4.2, states have now committed to “the provision of at least one year of free and compulsory pre-primary education”. - Please indicate the measures taken to ensure access to quality ECCE (several items may be ticked): [1] Which states that “ECCE is part of the right to education and the main foundation for holistic human development”. Article 4: Duration of Pre-School and General Education and Age of Entry

4.1 Pre-school education will last for four years, primary education for five years, basic education for nine years, and secondary education for twelve years.

4.2 Pre-school education is designed for children aged two to five.

4.3 Pre-school education is mandatory for five-year-old children, requiring at least 200 hours of training.

4.4 A child with disabilities may enroll in pre-school education at the age of six.

4.5 Children who turn six within the calendar year will be admitted to general education schools.

4.6 A child with developmental, health, or other valid reasons may be admitted to a general education school at the age of seven.

4.7 In cases specified in Section 4.6, parents, guardians, and supporters are required to assist in the child's development according to the guidance provided by the administration of the general education school.

Article 6: Equal Inclusive Education

6.1 Kindergartens and general education schools are responsible for creating conditions that allow all children to receive education, regardless of their individual characteristics and needs.

6.2 Kindergartens and general education schools will establish an environment with accessible models and appropriate teaching materials to address the diverse needs of students.

6.3 Individual learning plans for students with varying needs will be developed by kindergartens and general education schools based on input and consent from parents, guardians, and supporters. These plans will be implemented with their participation and support.

6.4 The procedure for organizing individual training and the methodology for developing training plans, as specified in Article 8.3 of the General Law on Education, shall be approved by the government member responsible for education.

6.5 The school administration may flexibly determine the duration of a student's classroom study period in consultation with the parents, guardians, and supporters of students with disabilities. This specified duration will not affect the timing of lessons in the general education curriculum.

6.6 Government members responsible for education, social security, and health will jointly approve the procedure for providing comprehensive development support to students with diverse needs in kindergartens and general education schools.

6.7 Kindergartens and general education schools will employ special needs educators, teaching assistants, doctors, nurses, and professional staff to provide recovery and rehabilitation services tailored to the individual needs of students.

6.8 Depending on enrollment numbers, educational institutions may hire the teachers and staff mentioned in Article 6.7.

6.9 Additional compensation will be provided to teachers, teaching assistants, and staff working with students with disabilities.
