[QG2Q11] Please provide a brief description of the relevant legal, regulatory or policy texts including measures on: Non-discrimination in the admission of pupils to educational institutions Non-differential treatment, including of foreign nationals resident in your country

The existing legal framework for the pre-school and school education system creates conditions for equal access to education to all children and students, regardless of their ethnic origin. The last amendments in the legislation ensure the implementation of a new approach and the introduction of integrated policy requiring synchronised efforts of the stakeholders related to the education and personal and professional development of children and students in the Republic of Bulgaria. Since 2018, measures have been taken in respect of children and pupils from vulnerable groups, including persons belonging to ethnic minorities, by providing additional funds from the State budget. The allocation of funds allows to further educate children and pupils who do not speak Bulgarian, or who have difficulties or knowledge gaps in mastering the educational content. This is an opportunity for the institutions to appoint social workers, educational mediators or teacher's assistants, as well as to engage staff responsible for the implementation of the measures to support access to education and for preventing the risk of dropping out of the pre-school and school educational system. A key priority is to keep children in compulsory pre-school and school age in school. With the creation of the permanent Mechanism for joint work of institutions for enrolment and retention in the education system of children and pupils in compulsory pre-school and school age, including those of Roma origin, the main objective is to achieve sustainability and effectiveness of the policies on preventing dropout of mandatory pre-school and school-age children and pupils in order to ensure the right to education of every child and pupil. The appointment of education mediators also helps achieve the objectives of the Mechanism. In the period 2017-2020 a total of 49 000 students have been re-enrolled into the Bulgarian education system. The Ministry of Education and Science and the New Bulgarian University have developed and approved a Tool for Integrated Assessment of the Needs of a Child at Risk. The tool provides for a comprehensive approach and mobilizes the resources of social, educational and healthcare systems for timely and coordinated intervention to detect, as early as possible, various difficulties and risks for the child. As regards each child identified as not covered, dropped out or at risk of dropping out from school, the coverage teams draw up lists of measures to apply a comprehensive intervention approach. The MES and the Social Assistance Agency exchange on a monthly basis information on children in pre-school and school education system who have been absent from school without a reason and on suspension of the family allowances. The approach of the Ministry of the Education and Science is to take a variety of measures, aimed at supporting all socially disadvantaged families. A portion of these measures entail providing access and support to pre-school education via exemption from payment of school fees, opportunities for additional studies in the Bulgarian language for children, whose mother tongue is different etc. As an example, the project "Active Inclusion in Pre-school Education System" under 2014-2020 Operational Programme "Science and Education for Smart Growth" is aimed at extending access to pre-school education for children from vulnerable groups and children living in poverty. The project supports the implementation of a set of measures, including payment of fees for attending full-day kindergarten in order to overcome economic barriers for inclusion and elimination of one of the most significant reasons for non-participation in pre-school education. In an implementation of project activities, the work of the additional pedagogical and non-pedagogical specialists appointed in the kindergartens continues, whose number as of September 2020 is 208 pedagogical and 523 non-pedagogical specialists, as follows: 96 psychologists; 74 speech therapists; 38 resource teachers; 67 mediators; 232 assistant educators; 218 teacher assistants; 6 social workers. The expenses for fees for February and March have been reimbursed (BGN 186,765.89), and the payment for the amounts due for May 2020 is currently being prepared. The value of the fees introduced by the kindergartens is a total of BGN 10,831.15, as in May a small part of the children (1827 children) attended kindergarten (305 kindergartens) for no more than 6 working days. A total of 11,307 fees for February have been identified for reimbursement of fees, and as of April 30, after the update of the data by the Social Assistance Agency, their number is already 17,870. A new update of the data will be made at the end of October 2020. The MoES has implemented a series of actions targeted at removing the socio-economic and cultural barriers to access to pre-school and school education, by continuing the supply of courses and trainings in Bulgarian language for all learners whose mastery of the language of instruction is not sufficient; other of the targeted actions employed were aimed at parents, providing them with information about the benefits of education for their children; other provided stimuli for parents to engage in active collaboration with the school community. In the context of pandemic 2020, the MoES has adopted certain amendments in its Law on Pre-School and School Education, in order to further enable the access to pre-school education, the social inclusion, the school drop-out prevention and support the socio-emotional competences in early pre-school age.

[QG2Q21] Please indicate the relevant legal, regulatory or policy texts and provide a brief description of the measures taken:

The Ministry of Education and Science has taken measures for equal access to quality education for all children and students, preventing restrictions based on ethnic or social origin, religion and social status, but further work is needed with children and parents to enhance motivation for participation in the educational process and overcoming negative public attitudes. A project "Support for Success" is underway. Its main objective is to support equal access to quality inclusive education for better coverage of pupils in school education through activities to overcome learning difficulties and gaps in mastering the learning content, and to develop their potential and capabilities for successful completion of secondary education and for future social, professional and personal fulfilment. The project involves the development of a toolkit for early identification of pupils at risk of early dropout from school and for applying a differentiated approach to identify their needs in order to provide individual support. The number of pupils under the program in 2018/2019 school year was 56 880 and in the current 2019/2020 school year it is 67 500.

The sexual education is compulsory as part of the health education modules thought in schools in Bulgaria. 8th grade students (at the age of 14-15) are considered able to recognize stereotypical attitudes as obstacles in communicating and accepting differences. In 10th grade, the matter is further considered through awareness-raising regarding the notions of "differences" and "tolerance". In 11th and 12th grade, as part of civic rights education modules students are expected to recognize cases of gender discrimination and understand the reasoning behind combating such behaviour. Students should also demonstrate understanding of the family as a social unit, the different roles, rights and responsibilities in it, and social roles dynamics in the society. They are also expected to understand the need to overcome prejudices. The topic of men and women is also part of the framework requirements for the subject on civil rights education.

[QG21Q1_SQ002] Is compulsory and free of charge pre-primary education available in your country? (Pre-primary education is free of charge for all: Please provide the duration:) Yes [Y]

[QG21Q1_SQ002comment] Is compulsory and free of charge pre-primary education available in your country? (Comment) it is still not completely free of charge, but the fees collected are very reasonable and the state authorities provide for budgetary funds to further lower these expenses.

[QG21Q2] Please list the laws and policies that ensure the availability of pre-primary education for all and provide information on the difficulties experienced by your government in the realization of access to pre-primary education. Brief quantitative information could be added. The existing legal framework for the pre-school and school education system creates conditions for equal access to education to all children and students. Since 2018, measures have been taken in respect of children and pupils from vulnerable groups, including persons belonging to ethnic minorities, by providing additional funds from the State budget. The allocation of funds allows to further educate children and pupils who do not speak Bulgarian, or who have difficulties or knowledge gaps in mastering the educational content. This is an opportunity for the institutions to appoint social workers, educational mediators or teacher's assistants, as well as to engage staff responsible for the implementation of the measures to support access to education and for preventing the risk of dropping out of the pre-school and school educational system. Increasing the coverage and improving the quality of pre-school education is a priority policy of the Ministry of Education and Science in view of the critical importance of pre-school education for personal and social wellbeing. In that regard, the National Program "Development of the Pre-School Education System" was implemented in the 2017/2018 and 2018/2019 school years in kindergartens and schools with pre-school groups. The main activity under the program concerns additional Bulgarian language classes for children whose mother tongue is other than Bulgarian. In addition to creating conditions for optimal physical and personal development of the children, the program is also focused on encouraging the active involvement of parents in the pre-school education process. In support of this policy, the Ministry of Education and Science has been implementing the project "Active inclusion in the pre-school education system" under Operational Programme "Science and Education for Smart Growth" 2014-2020 (OP SESG), which partially builds on the activity under the Mechanism for prevention of early school drop-out. One of the project activities concerns Bulgarian language trainings for children who need such training. For the first time, such trainings are provided to 3- and 4-year olds. The purpose of the activity is to ensure that the Bulgarian language is mastered as an effective tool for social inclusion and as a prevention of learning problems and dropout. A major project objective is to enhance the access of children from vulnerable groups living in poverty to pre-school education. In that regard, the project envisages payment of kindergarten fees as a means to overcome the economic barriers to inclusion and eliminate one of the most important reasons for non-participation in pre-school education and as a motivation for parents for active family – kindergarten cooperation. The task of the State is to ensure equal access for all children, not only for a specific group of children. Therefore, the State Budget Act provides that the Council of Ministers shall take the necessary steps, including by exercising their right to legislative initiative, to introduce compulsory pre-school education for children aged 4 and to support parents in paying the fees under Article 298(2) of the Pre-School and School Education Act. A programme for building, extension, raising superstructures and reconstruction of crèches, kindergartens and schools for the period 2020 – 2022 is adopted to support the implementation of the measure. A legislative initiative for amendments to the Pre-School and School Education Act has already been taken in order to regulate compulsory pre-school education from the age of 4. The expected effects of the amendment include increased coverage by pre-school education and facilitated access to education by eliminating the socioeconomic barriers. This will support the inclusion efforts and will assist in preventing social exclusion through support for overcoming learning difficulties. National Programme “We Succeed Together” will be implemented in 2020 to support the policies for improving the quality of pre-school education. The purpose is to ensure comprehensive development of child’s personality, implementation of innovative and original program systems and sharing of experience within the kindergarten, including with the family community, as well as with other institutions.

[QG22Q1] Is primary education
compulsory in your country?

Yes [Y]

Pre-school education is compulsory from the school year, which begins in the year of the child's 5th birthday. School education starts from the school year, which begins in the year of the child's 7th birthday, and is compulsory until the child reaches the age of 16. School education may begin from the school year beginning in the year of the child's 6th birthday at the discretion of the parent and pending readiness for school, certified under conditions and in accordance with the state educational standard for pre-school education. Two new national programs will be implemented in support of the policies for successful involvement of pupils in school education: - National programme "Providing modern working conditions to children and pupils in the personal development support centres" for 2020. The purpose is to provide even more favourable conditions for development of the interests, abilities and competences of children and pupils, for their career guidance and counselling and for improving the quality of the educational process. - National programme "Participate and change: the parent – an active partner in school life". The purpose is to involve parents in the school life of their children with a view to facilitated adaptation and socialisation of pupils in the school environment; to make the school a supporting, receiving, safe and desired experience and learning environment for pupils; to develop their positive attitude to learning and regular school attendance.

[QG22Q2] Is primary education
available free of charge to all?

Yes [Y]

[QG22Q21] Please provide the duration and indicate the extent to which it is.

At the end of the pre-school education a certificate for compulsory pre-school education is issued by an order determined by the state educational standard for the pre-school education. - 7031 illiterate, aged 16, not in education, have successfully completed literacy courses for adults, as part of the implemented project, entitled: New Chance for Success. These persons are adults, who had not had before the possibility neither the willingness to complete a period of study (a school grade or stage in the basic education level within the formal education system). Now, after having confronted the challenge to embark on these training on writing and reading, they have graduated following a successfully passed examination and received a certificate, entitling them to continue their education in the next school grade or stage at school. They can also choose to embark on a vocational training with the aim to acquire a professional qualification degree and enter the labour market. - A strategic framework of R Bulgaria has been developed with a horizon by 2030, outlining two fields of impact as regards adult learning. The first one applies to ensuring conditions for translating the LLL into reality, and the second one applies for encouraging/stimulating the adult population for increasing their education and qualification level. Both fields of impact have been defined as a follow up to broad consultations, encompassing institutions and organizations from local, regional and national level, which are part of the national platform, entitled: "United for Adult Learning". - The National Platform intended for underpinning the adult learning and education has been set up, which comprises of the following levels of governance: a coordination board, presided by the national coordinator for the Adult Education (MoES). Besides, the Board is composed of: - a representative of government institution; - one representative of the nationally representative employers' organizations; - one of trade unions; - 28 field coordinators responsible for Adult Education. At national level: a national coordination for LLL; At regional level: 28 field coordination groups; At local level: a network comprising over 400 institutions responsible for Adult Education and Learning

[QG25Q1_1] Please indicate the measures taken by your country to ensure equivalence in all educational institutions with regard to: (Establishment of minimum norms and standards in education) Yes [Y]

[QG25Q1_2] Please indicate the measures taken by your country to ensure equivalence in all educational institutions with regard to: (Establishment of conditions relating to the quality of the education provided (e.g. infrastructure, learner/teacher ratios, teaching and learning materials, use of ICT)) Yes [Y]

[QG25Q1_3] Please indicate the measures taken by your country to ensure equivalence in all educational institutions with regard to: (Adoption of legal or regulatory provisions to ensure that children learn in a safe environment free from violence or harassment, including school-related gender-based violence (in and around schools).) Yes [Y]

[QG25Q11] Please elaborate further on the measures taken:

Quality of education is the degree of compliance of the provided public educational services with: the normative requirements (laws, state educational standards and other legal acts); the expectations of the citizens and the users of the educational services (students, parents, employers); the expectations of other stakeholders. Quality management in institutions is a continuous process of organizational development, based on analysis, planning, implementation of activities, evaluation and improvement of the work of kindergartens and schools. Quality management in institutions is based on the following principles: efficiency and effectiveness; autonomy and self-government; engagement and cooperation between the participants in the process; clear division of responsibilities for achieving the institution's objectives; continuity and transparency of the quality management process in the institution. The objectives of quality management in the institutions are: 1. Increasing the quality of the provided education in the kindergartens and the schools; 2. Improving the individual progress of each child and student in terms of his/her educational results; 3. Organizational development of kindergartens and schools. At the end of 2018, a working group with the participation of experts from the Ministry of Education and Science (MES) and a representative of UNICEF - Bulgaria optimized the Mechanism for Counteracting School Bullying and the Algorithm to it. The School Bullying Counteracting Mechanism aims to introduce a single framework for tackling bullying in schools. The administrative burden for pedagogical specialists in their work with children and students was eased. The Ministry of Education and Science participates in the Advisory Board, initiated by UNICEF - Bulgaria, for the preparation of a methodological framework for the purposes of conducting a study to assess aggression among children and students. With the assistance of UNICEF - Bulgaria, we are working on the introduction of functional assessment through ICF-CY (International Classification of Human Functioning, Disabilities and Health of Children and Adolescents, developed by the World Health Organization). The assessment will contribute to the unification of the conceptual apparatus of the various specialists in determining the educational needs of children and students in accordance with their health status, with an emphasis on their strengths. A joint campaign for the prevention of aggression among children and students was conducted, which ended with a charity television event. A Comprehensive Program for a Safe School Environment for the Prevention of Violence and Bullying at School has been prepared and is being tested in five schools for a period of two years. An Agreement on Understanding and Cooperation between the Ministry of Education and Science and the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) in Bulgaria is to be signed. A joint development of an online interactive platform in support of children and students with special educational needs between the Ministry of Education and Science and UNICEF is forthcoming. The National Inspectorate of Education (NIE) has been functioning since 2018 according to the Regulations adopted by the Council of Ministers No. 36 of March 13, 2018, prom. SG, issue 24 of 16 March 2018, amended SG No. 2 of January 7, 2020. The establishment of NIE is part of the reforms introduced through the Pre-school and School Education Act at the national level for the implementation of the quality management process in the education system. The National Inspectorate of Education is managed and represented by a director who is an inspection body for kindergartens and schools. The Director of the NIE is appointed and dismissed by the Prime Minister. The National Inspectorate of Education is a budget-supported legal entity with the Council of Ministers. The Director of the NIE also performs other functions defined in a normative act or assigned by the Minister of Education and Science. National Inspectorate of Education:

<https://nio.government.bg/> National Programme "Building STEM school learning environment" will be implemented in 2020 with a view to motivating pupils to study natural sciences, mathematics and technologies, improving the educational outcomes, acquiring a system of competences, continuous comprehensive knowledge, key skills and attitudes geared towards practice, improving pupils' development and career guidance, tracking them into technological professions. The learning environment is enlarged by enabling schools to partner with cultural institutions and scientific organisations. In that regard, activities under National Programme "Provision of modern learning environment" - the modules "Museums as a learning environment" (2018), "Cultural institutions as a learning environment" (2019 and 2020) and "Libraries as a learning environment" (2020), are implemented pursuant to an agreement with the Ministry of Culture.

As of 2017 the MoES is firmly committed to supporting the teaching professionals, in particular by realizing a substantial and sustainable increase in their remuneration. As of 1st January 2021 the minimum level of the teachers' remuneration is going to be further increased and the school teachers' salary will reach an overall increase by 91% since the end of 2017, enabling the enhancement of their social status and aiming to make the profession one of the most cherished in the society. On the background of the dynamic digitalization, including in the education sector, we consider crucial maintaining the support, guidance and enhancing the profile of the teaching profession. Furthermore, we have intensified the efforts toward providing further flexible alternative pathways for younger people as well as for other non-teaching/non in education professionals to embark on the profession of the teacher. The MoES reaffirmed once again during the last year its continuous financial support also to the HEIs, where initial teachers training is provided, allocating additional scholarships and exempting from tuition fees and other taxes all students pursuing pedagogical studies; furthermore, new disciplines have been incorporated in the syllabi of the HEIs, such as „Inclusive Education“, „Information and Communication Technologies for Education and for Learning in Digital Environment“.

[QG28Q1] Does your country have a regulatory framework relating to the establishment and functioning of private educational institutions?

Yes [Y]

The Pre-School and School Education Act, Article 40. (1) Private kindergartens and schools shall be those which are established by natural and/or legal persons as businesses, non- profit legal entities or cooperatives or undertakings under the laws of a Member State. (2) Private kindergartens and schools shall engage in their activities after their entry into the register of the institutions in the preschool and school education system under the terms and conditions laid down in this Act. (3) Natural and/or legal persons may establish private schools in accordance with Article 38(1) and (2) and Article 39(2) (1-3). (4) Private kindergartens and schools may conduct instruction and issue documents on the completion of a pre-school education level or a completed grade, stage or degree of school education in accordance with the requirements laid down in this Act and the laws of another Member State provided they have been licensed under the laws of that Member State and the teaching may combine the requirements of the education system of the licensing state, as well as the state education standards under Article 22.

[QG28Q2] Do legal provisions prohibiting discrimination on the grounds listed by the Convention/Recommendation [1] explicitly apply to private educational institutions?

Yes [Y]

[QG28Q21] Please briefly describe what laws, regulations or policies guarantee that the development of private education does not generate discrimination and that private schools offer a relevant alternative in your country:

As long as the state education standards articulated under Art. 22 are complied with, the private school concerned is to apply the standard on civic, health, environmental and intercultural education. Other regulations of the PSSEA concerning the education in non-discrimination, tolerance and respect are also effective and observed by the private education institutions.

[QG28Q3] Does your country have an education policy framework for minimum educational standards as regards the rights of the parents /legal guardians for providing religious and moral education for their children?

No [N]

[QG29Q11] Please provide a brief description of the provisions:

There is no official concept of "Minority" in Republic of Bulgaria. We discuss about ethnical communities.
Art. 36 (2) of the Constitution of R Bulgaria stipulates that every citizen, for whom Bulgarian is not their mother tongue, is entitled to use and study simultaneously their mother tongue alongside with Bulgarian. The Pre-School and School Education Act further provides for the conditions for this in Art. 13 (6). The government encourages the study of cultures, languages and religions present in Bulgaria. The existing legal framework for the pre-school and school education system creates conditions for equal access to education to all children and students, regardless of their ethnic origin. Normative requirements are established in support of activities related to the education process of children and students for whom the Bulgarian language is not mother tongue. It should be particularly emphasised that the study of mother tongue is not conditional on any recognition of a particular minority group, but rather a matter of individual will of the persons concerned. The study of mother tongue is possible in all Bulgarian schools in the form of obligatory eligible subject and/or freely eligible subject. The only requirement is that parents file an application for the particular language with the school administration. The textbooks are free of charge. For the time being, curricula for study of Turkish, Hebrew and Armenian as mother tongues for 1st - 8th grades have been approved, and curricula for study of Roma native language have been designed for 2nd - 8th grades. It should be noted that as of 2018 through the Ordinance on the financing of the institutions in the area of pre-school and school education, the educational institutions were given additional funds for working with children and students from vulnerable groups, including for appointment of educational mediators, whose role is to assist the access to education and prevent the risk of early leaving of the education system. After completing the project activities in which educational mediators are included, the necessary analysis shall be performed and the next measures shall be taken on the basis of the lessons learnt and the current need for sustainability of their activities. Besides, Ordinance 15 of 22 July 2019 on the status and professional development of teachers, directors and other pedagogical specialists defines the professional profiles of the persons occupying the positions of pedagogical specialists at the institutions of the system of pre-school and school education, among which also the position "pedagogical advisor" in kindergartens, schools or in a center for support of personality development, which includes functions overlapping to a great extent with the functions of the mediators, such as consulting and assisting the students, teachers, parents and the school management in realizing and maintaining the ties between the family, the school and the society; participating in the development and pursuance of school policies in the area of upbringing, socialization and protection of the children and students; consulting the children and students, pedagogical specialists, parents and other interested persons in overcoming of problems relating to the educational process, mediation in conflict resolution; support and consultations of the students on issues connected with the educational process and the choice and pursuit of work of interests; work for prevention of dependencies, symptoms of the effects of different types of psychoactive substances on students, hazardous sexual behavior, different forms of aggression and violence, development and implementation of programs for countermeasure and impact measures; participation in the team for support for personality development in the institution, which makes evaluation of the individual needs of a child and student for additional support, and where there is no psychologist in the institution they support and coordinate the activity of the team; participation in activities for motivation of the children and students in overcoming their problematic behavior, and activities for prevention of the dropping out of school; assistance to the personality development and adaptation of the children and students to the educational environment; carrier orientation and counseling of the students; making the connection between the parents and the institution in the work on cases, in cooperation with the competent authorities for child protection and participation in the inter-institutional team meetings. Targeted measures are being implemented with the aim of assisting equal access to high quality inclusive education, ensuring better coverage of the students in school education through activities for overcoming learning difficulties and gaps in learning the content, as well as developing their potential and capabilities to complete the secondary education successfully and to be prepared for future social and professional realization. Tools are being developed for early identification of students at risk of early school leaving and for applying differentiated approach when defining their needs of individual support. With Decision № 172 of 29 March 2019, the Council of Ministers approved the National Program "Assisting the municipalities in implementing activities for desegregation of education". The development of the objective laid down in PSSEA is performed through Ordinance No 13 on the civic, health, environmental and intercultural education. The main objective of the education for/in intercultural diversity is the cultivation of a positive attitude to diversity and the skill for constructive interactions in a multicultural environment. The brand-new curriculum for civic education for 11th grade, which started in the 2020/2021 school year, contains a section „Identities and Diversities in the Society“ covering 3 themes. The students are expected to understand, assess and explain the role of language, religion, ethnical background and traditions of social engagement and differences in the society. At the same time, the different types of minority policies should be distinguished – assimilation, (auto)segregation, integration and the students should express their own attitudes to them. That is why the students are required to study the sources of identity of the main minority groups in the country or in a specific settlement. In such studies the representatives of each minority group will have the opportunity to present in a constructive dialogue their sensitivity and culture.

[QG29Q2] As regards the educational standards in educational institutions run by minorities, please describe the existing legal and policy framework:
