Every action done by the Ministry is lead by the objective of avoiding any kind of discrimination (don't forget LGBT!). The Luxembourgish school system is taking in account the diverse profiles of students and requires the whole school community to adopt a respectful attitude towards diversity. The schools in Luxembourg have to consider diversity as an enrichment and resource rather than an obstacle.

There have no gender barriers in respect to access to education for a very long time now. All students are equally encouraged to pursue studies and reach their full potential. Gender issues and stereotypes remain for instance in the perspective of professional choices. Some professions are still considered to be more suitable either for girls or boys respectively. The Ministry of Gender equality has been established 25 years ago and in cooperation with other ministries, of course also the Ministry of education, address these issues. There are also still gender issues in the professional world in terms of career opportunities and equal pay for instance.

Yes [Y]

[QG25Q11] Please
elaborate further on the measures taken:

All public schools basically receive the same resources, learner teacher ratio etc is the same. However, for fundamental schools the law of 2009 foresees additional human resources for schools located in areas with low socio-economic background. The calculation for the attribution of additional resources is based on socio-economic indicator.

[QG28Q1] Does your country have a regulatory framework relating to the establishment and functioning of private educational institutions?	Yes [Y]
[QG28Q11] Please provide a brief description:	this law is currently been modified.
[QG28Q2] Do legal provisions prohibiting discrimination on the grounds listed by the Convention/Recommendation [1] explicitly apply to private educational institutions?	Yes [Y]
[QG28Q21] Please briefly describe what laws, regulations or policies guarantee that the development of private education does not generate discrimination and that private schools offer a relevant alternative in your country:	The law on private schools is currently being rewritten. private schools offer an alternative in our country mainly for expats, people whose intention is not to stay for a longer period of time, an alternative offer are also the European schools which are mainly for children of employees from European institutions. The government is making efforts to develop an alternative offer to students in the public sector, for instance international schools offering the IB Diploma or A-Levels or the European baccalaureate. Being public schools, these offers being totally free of charge as opposed to private schools that require payment of a tuition.

remove the obstacles
encountered:

Even with universal access to ECEC, primary and secondary education, high quality standards we still can improve our system in facing the challenge of offering the best opportunities to all pupils and students, especially in the context of a very diverse school population. Almost 50% of our students have a migrant background and thus face challenges related to the languages taught and spoken in school, but also the language of instruction that they often do not know sufficiently. International studies have repeatedly revealed the weaknesses of the system which lay primarily in it's extremely challenging language regime. Students with a migrant and low socio-economic backgrounds perform poorly in these evaluations and do not sufficiently reach their true potential due to the obstacles described earlier. One response to this challenge is a significant increase in diverse language paths within the public school system.
