1. Non-discriminating and equal opportunities in education in the context of The Sustainable Development Goal 4 (SDG 4)

Articles /paragraphs 1 (1), 2 and 3 Conventions / Recommendations provide for discrimination and equal opportunities in education. This part is part of the main purpose of the Convention/Recommendation, which emphasizes the state's duty to prohibit any form of discrimination in education while promoting equality of educational opportunity.

This is in line with the common desire for SDG 4, which aims to "ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all" by 2030. It therefore covers all the objectives of the SD4, but also the SDG target of 4.5

1.1 Please indicate the measures taken by your Government to eliminate and prevent discrimination in education within the meaning of the Convention/Recommendations (note all applicable) (you can mention/mention a few points);

✓ Constitutional rules and/or legislation prohibit discrimination in education

✓ The rules prohibit discrimination in education

✓ Policies and programmes are aimed at eliminating and preventing discrimination in education

✓ Access to justice in the event of a violation of the right not to discriminate in Education

✓ Combating discrimination in terms of the curriculum

The other is different

The general requirements for the admission of Turkmen citizens to educational institutions are regulated by the Education Act of Turkmenistan and the model provisions on educational institutions of appropriate types and forms of ownership. Turkmenistan provides access to pre-school and general education facilities for all children living in Turkmenistan and having such a right according to the established age. (Regardless of nationality).

Please provide a brief description of relevant legal, regulatory or policy texts, including measures to:

Do not discriminate in the admission of students to educational institutions.

Turkmen citizens are guaranteed the opportunity to receive education regardless of nationality, colour, gender, origin, property and position, place of residence, language, attitude to religion, political opinion or other circumstances, as well as age and health status (Article 4 of the Turkmenistan Education Act).

The main legal act governing the right to education in Turkmenistan is the Constitution of Turkmenistan. The legal mechanism for implementing the right to education is specified in the Education Act of Turkmenistan on May 4, 2013.

It should be noted that Turkmenistan follows the principles of universally accepted international law and is a party to the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the Convention on the Rights of the Child, the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women, the Convention on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination, which enshrines the rules of the right to education.

Undifferentiated treatment, including with foreigners living in your country.

1.2 Please indicate the actions your government has taken to ensure that all levels and types of education in your country are accessible (a few points can be noted):

- ✓ Constitutional laws and/or legislation guarantee equal access to education.
 - ✓ The rules guarantee equal access to all levels and types of education
 - ✓ Policies and programmes ensure equal access to all levels and types of education

Public education policy, along with other principles, is based on the principles of equality of rights of each person in the full realization of his abilities and talent, accessibility for every citizen of Turkmenistan of all kinds of educational services, provided by the state and continuity of education and continuity of his steps.

Please provide relevant legal, regulatory or policy texts and provide a brief description of the measures taken.

The development of an accessible education system is one of the important areas of reform and improvement of the national education system. According to Art. 4 The Basic Law in Turkmenistan is the highest value of society and the state.

Article 55 of the Constitution of Turkmenistan stipulates that: "Everyone has the right to education. The state ensures the accessibility of vocational education for each person in accordance with his abilities."

The rights to education and academic creativity are defined by the Education Act of Turkmenistan. Article 1 of the Act states: "The right to education is one of the fundamental and inalienable constitutional rights of the citizens of Turkmenistan." The principle of accessibility for every citizen of Turkmenistan of all kinds of state-provided education services is a sign of creating the conditions for the realization of an equal right to education.

This includes the 4.1 SDG and part of Target 4.6.

1.3 Please indicate the actions that have been taken and are planned in your country to ensure equality of opportunity (in terms of access, participation and completion), equal treatment and support for such coverage of all students (including girls and women, economically and socially), marginalized, people with disabilities and other vulnerable groups) in the learning process (you can note a few points):

Citizens of Turkmenistan are guaranteed education regardless of nationality, colour, gender, origin, property and position, place of residence, language, attitude to religion, political beliefs or other circumstances, as well as age and health status. In the country, both sexes are trained together, access to all educational programs for both sexes is equal.

In accordance with the Education Act of Turkmenistan, in order to realize the right to education of citizens in need of social support, the state bears the cost of their maintenance during their education. In educational institutions, the maintenance and education of orphans and children left without parental care or substitutes is provided on the basis of full public support, including in vocational institutions until they reach the age of 24.

Please give more details on the measures taken, including measures to promote gender equality and empower girls and women in education, and through it:

Citizens of Turkmenistan are guaranteed the opportunity to receive education regardless of gender. In the country, persons of both sexes are educated together, access to all stages of education for both sexes is equal.

Please indicate whether your country has adopted and revises legislation relating to the minimum age of marriage to meet international standards (18 years):

Note that child marriage is a discriminatory practice, as girls can often marry at a younger age than boys. Child marriages violate a child's right to education because they are more likely to drop out of school and children who do not attend school are more likely to marry.

The Family Code of Turkmenistan (v.15) stipulates that in exceptional cases, if there are good reasons, guardianship and guardianship authorities can reduce the age of marriage by no more than one year at the request of those wishing to marry.

Yes, no.

Please provide a link to the relevant laws and regulations:

The country has a mandatory 12-year general secondary education for boys and girls. Children complete their 12-year general education at the age of 18. The law of Turkmenistan is considered to be the achievement of adulthood and capacity (Article 23 of the Civil Code of Turkmenistan).

The marriage age for both sexes comes at 18 (Article 15 of the Family Code of Turkmenistan), and the general age allowing for an employment contract is recognized as 18 years (Article 23 of the Labour Code of Turkmenistan).

2.1 Preschool education

Pre-school education is not explicitly provided for in the Convention/Recommendation. Nevertheless, the international community has increasingly been aware of the importance of young children's care and education (ECCE) over the years. The Committee on the Rights of the Child initially recognized "the right to early childhood education as beginning at birth" (General Comment 7). This became more evident in the Moscow Framework for Action and Cooperation 2010⁸. In the current context of the 2030 Education Agenda under Target 4.2 of the SDGs, states have now committed to providing at least one year and compulsory pre-school education

Is there compulsory and free pre-school education in your country?

✓ Pre-school education is compulsory: specify the age and duration of education:
